

Paris winter warmer - Cartexpo

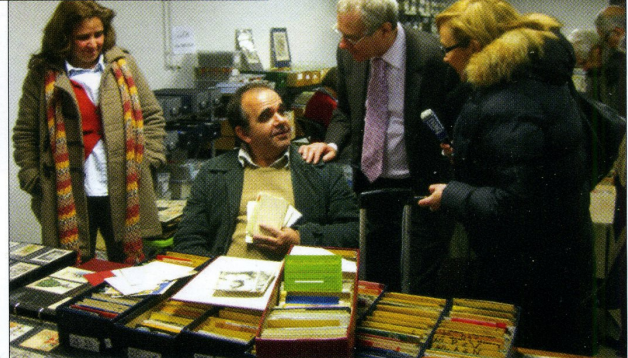

Winter in Paris was seriously warmed up by the staging of Cartexpo, France's long-standing premier postcard fair, organised by Marc Lefebvre and Alexandre Przopiowski. Palle Petersen and Kirsten Andersen from Denmark were there to record their pictorial diary...

Above: the entrance team with Irene Lefebvre on the right. Top left: an impressive queue. Left: it's all go on the postcard front.

The walls in the café had beautiful displays with selected cabaret/variety items, matching the theme of the poster for the Show

Above: Organiser Marc Lefebvre (second right) introduces French radio to the world of postcards at the two-day event.

Art dealer and postcard collector Anthony d'Offay with director Marie Louise-Laband, came direct from Belfast, where they were setting up an Andy Warhol exhibition, a first for the city. Kirsten Andersen of Postcardenmark is on the right.

Han Ruyters (left) from the Netherlands with French dealer colleague Francis Rottier

PPM keeps you in touch with the postcard world!